 the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
 the language of the translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- contained in the international application in written form.
 filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
 furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
 furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
 The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
 The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- the description, pages _____
 the claims, Nos. _____

III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

- the entire international application.
 claims Nos. 22,24-26

because:

- the said international application, or the said claims Nos. _____ relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):

- the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. 22,24-26 are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

See supplemental sheet

- the claims, or said claims Nos. _____ are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.
 no international search report has been established for said claims Nos. _____

2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:

- the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the standard.
 the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the standard.

Continuation of: III.1

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

Claims 22 and 24 to 26 concern a scattering layer according to claim 20. However, claim 20 does not concern a scattering layer but the use of this layer. Therefore claims 22 and 24 to 26 are not clear within the meaning of PCT Article 6.

V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	6, 11, 16	YES
	Claims	1-5, 7-10, 12-15, 17-21, 23	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims		YES
	Claims	1-21, 23	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-21, 23	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: EP-A-1083445

1. D1 discloses (see paragraphs [0070] to [0100]) a scattering layer based on mineral particles ("inorganic components", page 12, line 2 and line 17, "translucent inorganic materials", page 12, line 10), intended to render a light source uniform (see abstract), characterized in that it comprises an electromagnetic device (page 11, paragraph 70) of which the surface resistivity is more than 100 Ohms (see page 13, paragraph 92).

Therefore claim 1 is not novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

2. The use of a scattering layer according to claims 20, 21 and 23 is also anticipated by D1 (see abstract).
3. The following dependent claims also appear to be anticipated by D1 (see the passages cited above) and are not considered novel (PCT Article 33(2)): claims 2 to 5, 7 to 10, 12 to 15 and 17 to 19.

4. The following dependent claims appear merely to be modifications to D1 which are obvious, would be familiar to a person skilled in the art, and hence do not involve an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)): claims 6, 11 and 16.
